Israeli-Arab Talks Unlikely

Neither Side Willing To Make Concessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli and Arab spokesmen who have been talking separately about terms of a possible agreement appeared agreed today on one thing only: no peace talks are likely soon.

Informed Israeli sources said Monday Israel has told the State Department of a package of items on which it might be willing to make concessions. It did not include cession of any territory or return of Arab refugees.

Not Optimistic — These sources emphasized that no optimistic conclusions should be drawn from the U.S.-Israel talks. They said there is no evidence of any increased willingness on the Arab side to discuss terms Israel would consider.

Abdel Khaled Hassouna, secretary-general of the eight-nation Arab League, met newsmen after a call Monday on Secretary of State Dulles. Asked about prospects for Israel-Arab relations, he replied, "I don't think they are at all encouraging" as a result of the Israeli assault on Syrian positions near the Sea of Galilee.

Hassouna would not say whether he had given Dulles terms the Arabs would consider for a basic settlement. He referred newsmen to public statements he and other Arab leaders have made.

Want 1947 Boundaries — These have spelled out continued Arab insistence, as a starting point for talks, on the U.N.-pro-

Widow Of Adm. Peary Dies At Age Of 92

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — The widow of North Pole discoverer Adm. Robert Peary died Monday. Mrs. Josephine Diebitsch Peary was 92 years old.

She accompanied Peary on several of his arctic expeditions. She was the mother of two arctic adventurers, Mrs. Marie Peary Starford of Portland, widely publicized as "The Snow Baby" at her 1893 birth less than 13 degrees from the pole; and Robert E. Peary Jr., of Brunswick, a construction engineer who has specialized in arctic building.

Born in Washington, D.C., the daughter of Smithsonian Institution Prof. Herman H. Diebitsch, she met Peary when he was a Naval engineer. They were married in 1888. At Peary's death in 1920, eight years after his dash to the pole, Mrs. Peary settled in Maine.

Two Slightly Hurt As Cars Crash In City

Two Salem motorists miraculously escaped serious injury at 1:30 p.m. Monday when their cars collided at the intersection of N. Ellsworth Ave. and E. 6th St.

Treated at the Central Clinic Hospital following the accident were Homer T. Rotzel, 77, of 518 E. 6th St., lacerated hip and Anton Kastanek, 28, of 976 S. Lincoln Ave., arm and body bruises.

According to police, Kastanek was traveling north on N. Ellsworth Ave. behind an unknown vehicle when Rotzel pulled his car out of 6th St. and headed south on N. Ellsworth. The unidentified car stopped suddenly and Kastanek pulled his car into the left lane, causing it to sideswipe the approaching Rotzel car.

The Kastanek auto then struck a

Rumreich At Work Despite Dismissal

LISBON — Dr. A. S. Rumreich, former Columbiana County health commissioner, asked county board of health members at their regular meeting Monday night in the Courthouse to reconsider their action of Dec. 7 when they fired him from his post, but the board reaffirmed its action.

Attending the meeting with Dr. Rumreich were Lynn Riddle and Jack Beck, Lisbon attorneys who are representing him.

Riddle advised Dr. Rumreich to report for work this morning and a check with the Health Department office revealed that the doctor was in his office this morning.

The former commissioner, in asking the board to reconsider his dismissal, denied violations of the board's policies, the reason the board gave for firing him, and declared that he had carried out a good health program.

Board members, however, pointed out several instances where they said Dr. Rumreich had either ignored or violated their policies. Members of the county Health Department's staff attended the meeting and some of them aired their grievances in connection with Dr. Rumreich's operation of the office.

At the meeting the board transferred funds to pay certain budgetary items that they claimed the health commissioner bought without their authorization.

Arbitration Of Strike Rejected

Westinghouse Steps Up Loans to Strikers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp., standing pat on its offer of a five-year contract and declining to submit disputed issues in a strike to arbitration, today stepped up its program of lending $100 to each of its idle employees to help tide them over Christmas.

Clerks from the payroll department were present at the big east Pittsburgh works — where more than 10,000 are idle — to hand over checks. Similar arrangements were made at other idle Westinghouse plants throughout the nation.

$168,000 Loaned — The loan program began Monday at a few plants. At Sharon, Pa., the company reported it loaned $168,000.

Members of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers crossed their own picket lines — with union sanction — to pick up the checks.

IUE and company negotiators recessed their talks Monday with no report of progress as James B. Carey, IUE president, arrived to take part in today's negotiations.

Pleas for submission to arbitration were made Monday by the governors of three states—George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, Averell Harriman of New York and Theodore McKeldin of Maryland.

In rejecting the proposals, Westinghouse said:

E. Liverpool Pay Proposal Dropped

EAST LIVERPOOL — City Council dropped legislation for salary increases of city officials and a wage tax on residents last night following a protest gathering of some 80 persons.

The proposed legislation would have granted salary increases to the mayor, councilmen, council clerk, and treasurer. The raises would have totaled $7,812 and would have been financed through a wage tax of one-half of one per cent on the East Liverpool residents. The increases would have taken effect Jan. 1.

Council also had planned legislation for a 10 per cent increase of the city's hourly-rated municipal employees. However, this too, was dropped.

Icy Blasts Chill Wide Portion Of Eastern U. S.

Many Cities Report Below Zero Readings As Cold Moves East

By The Associated Press

Icy blasts knifed deep into the nation's midsection and sliced a wide path over most of the eastern half of the country today.

The winter season officially starts Thursday morning 9:22 a.m. CST but it was real wintry weather in many areas. Temperatures stayed below zero in northern Midwest areas.

The cold air moved south and eastward from the midlands Monday and temperatures dropped during the night over most of the East and South. It was below zero in sections of New York State.

Readings in some of the Midwest were not as low this morning as 24 hours earlier, but they still were below zero and near zero in most of the region. Lows included -13 at International Falls and Redwood Falls, Minn.

Cloudy skies and light snow formed a protective blanket in Minnesota, the center of the arctic air. At Bemidji, Minn., it was 11 degrees below zero compared to a bone-chilling 45 below Monday morning.

Yuletide Mail Peak Reached Here Monday

The Salem Post Office hit its peak in Christmas mail Monday when 73,150 letters and packages were cancelled, it was announced today by Ray Reasbeck, superintendent of mails.

Despite 41,490 cancellations while staying open Sunday, yesterday's figure was the high for the month, although still 16,000 short of the record set last Dec. 17 when 89,350 letters were registered.

Nonetheless, cancellations since the first of the month have increased approximately five per cent over last year. The total of Monday reached some 564,800 for this Yuletide season. Reasbeck contributed the increase to the fact that Christmas falls on Sunday, giving the public an extra day to mail their cards.

Receipts show an increase over last year's figures. As of last evening, the office had received $29,959, nearly a 15 per cent increase over last year's receipts of $25,522.

The Christmas card mail climbed steadily throughout last week until a slight drop Saturday. The figures showed cancellations Monday of 35,900; Tuesday, 47,410; Wednesday, 57,050; Thursday, 60,020; Friday 70,760; and then Saturday's decrease to 64,530.

Seeks California Pro-Ike Slate

Gov. Knight Assumes President Will Run

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight disclosed today he is going ahead with formation of a pro-Eisenhower slate of delegates to the 1956 Republican National Convention.

Moving fast in a state rich with presidential possibilities, the governor said California's 70 votes will be pledged to himself as a favorite, son, and only nominal, candidate if the President doesn't seek a second term.

State election law forbids unpledged delegations.

"We are proceeding with plans for the June (5) presidential primary campaign in California," Knight said, "on the assumption that President Eisenhower will accept renomination and will again lead the party to victory in next year's elections."

His press statement outlined plans for doing what Knight said all along he would do. Its timing, though, raised some question as to whether he is trying to stake out a claim on the big delegation, second only to New York's, ahead of Vice President Nixon and Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.).

Knight previously said he would be happy to have both Knowland and Nixon as members of his delegation. Known to be cool toward Nixon, he has been silent on whom he would support at the convention in the event Eisenhower bows out.

Coleman To Seek 5th Term As Court Clerk

John Coleman of Glenmoor, Columbiana County clerk of courts, is circulating petitions he will file with the county election board for renomination at the Republican primary in May.

Coleman will seek his fifth term. He will complete his fourth four-year term as clerk of courts in 1956. He was first elected in November of 1940 and took office in January of 1941.

Prior to his election to the county office, he served three and a half years as clerk in the Municipal Court in East Liverpool. He was employed in the waterworks department in East Liverpool before that.

Curfew Put In Effect In Bethlehem

Rioting Breaks Out In Jordan Against Joining Pro-West Pact

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Rioters clashed with police in the main streets of Amman today in new demonstrations against putting Jordan into the Baghdad Pact. Some bloodshed occurred.

King Hussein announced dissolution of Parliament in a drastic move aimed at choking off violence stemming from word that Jordan was about to join the Western-sponsored five-power pact. The dissolution automatically caused the fall of the government.

But shortly after word of the King's action spread through the Jordan capital new demonstrations flared in the streets. Security police clashed with the crowds and several casualties were reported.

The crowds were apparently incensed because the King's announcement said the ministers under Premier Hazza El Majall would remain in office until a new Cabinet is formed.

The mounting violence brought a curfew to Bethlehem as that shrine city of Christ's birth was preparing for the annual Christmas pilgrimage.

(A telephone report received in Beirut from Amman said "the situation is deteriorating" in Jordan after days of riotous demonstrations against the pro-Western Baghdad Pact. No details were given in the brief telephone call to a Beirut business firm.)

(A spokesman for the U.N. Works Relief Agency (UNWRA) in Beirut said one UNWRA automobile was burned and overturned by demonstrators in the Bethlehem area Monday but no UNWRA personnel were injured.)

(Anti-Baghdad Pact demonstrations also continued in Jerusalem's old city today as a crowd of stone throwing Arabs attacked the American consulate building in the Jordan-administered section: a U.S. source reported from the Israeli side. The report said American Consul-General William Cole asked the Israeli Foreign Ministry, in case of necessity, whether Israel would allow American citizens to cross over to Israel without formalities.)

To Vote 36th Time — As delegates prepared to ballot a 36th time, hope was voiced that the compromise would go through and the assembly could wind up today.

The Philippines and Yugoslavia have been deadlocked for two months in their race for the council seat. Need for a solution became increasingly urgent because the council could not function after Jan. 1 without a full membership.

The prospects for adoption of the compromise soared when Russia finally made known Monday she would support it, although she felt the whole idea was illegal.

4 Planes Collide In 2 Accidents In Florida Skies

2 B47s Fall Near Tampa Trailer Park; Struthers Man Dies

By The Associated Press

Four Air Force planes collided in two separate accidents over Florida Monday and brought death to 11 airmen. Three other airmen were missing.

Eight men died when two B47 jet bombers collided over the outskirts of Tampa. Flaming wreckage showered the countryside. One of the planes was from MacDill Air Force Base at Tampa and the other from Pinecastle AFB near Orlando.

A few hours later an F86D Sabre jet smashed into a B29 bomber in the air over Port St. Joe, about 200 miles up the Florida west coast, and killed three fliers. Three others were missing. Both planes were from Tyndall AFB at Panama City, Fla.

Fell Near Trailers — The Tampa planes fell dangerously close to a trailer park. Terrified residents said they thought an earthquake had struck. One plane exploded on contact and the other seconds later.

Spokesmen said the accident apparently occurred when the MacDill plane was having trouble with its landing gear and the Pinecastle craft flew underneath to take a look. This is often done.

Then both must have hit a down-draft, causing them to collide. Two crewmen tried to jump to safety, but their chutes failed to open in the short space to the ground.

The wreckage fell about half a mile from the trailer park and set fire to a pine thicket. Thirteen children were left fatherless in the holiday season tragedy.

A portion of the B29 bomber wreckage fell about five miles west of Port St. Joe, on busy U.S. 98, and barely missed a dozen beach houses.

Flash Lit Sky — "The planes collided with a very bright flash that lit up the sky," said Highway Patrolman Clyde LePoirier. "After the first explosion, they separated into two smaller balls of fire, then they exploded again."

"The main part of the B29 fell on the highway. A smaller part fell in the water just off from the beach and the main part of the

Census Shows Farms Getting Bigger, Have Fewer Horses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau said today its census of Agriculture discloses that farms are getting bigger and "horseless farming" is becoming common. Nearly all farms now have electricity, the report said, and the number of farms is growing smaller.

The biggest decline in the number of farms between the census of agriculture in 1950 and the farm census in 1954 occurred in the South, the Census Bureau said, and was accompanied by a decline in tenant and share farming.

The partial report on results of the 1954 farm census taken in October and November of last year included these details:

Between 1950 and 1954 there was a decline of 599,769 in the number of farms in the United States. The total in 1954 was 4,782,393.

The South had 2,316,606 farms in 1954. This was a decline of 335,817, or 12.7 per cent.

The North had the next biggest number of farms in 1954—2,043,088—and the next biggest decline in the number of farms since 1950—224,978, or 9.9 per cent.

The West has 461,673 farms in 1954. This was 38,974 fewer farms than in 1950, a decline of about 8.4 per cent.

Between 1950 and 1954 the average size of farms in the United States increased from 215.3 acres to 242.2 acres. Farms were biggest, by far, in the West where they averaged 798.4 acres in 1954 compared with 702.4 acres in 1950. Farms were smallest in the South, where they averaged 166.8 acres in 1954 compared with 148.2 acres in 1950. In the North the average farm was 212.6 acres in 1954 compared with 194.4 acres in 1950.

About 4,400,000 farms — 93 per cent of all farms—had electricity in 1954. In 1950 about 78.3 per cent of all farms had electricity.

From 1950 to 1954 farms with milking machines increased 11.9

per cent; farms with cornpickers increased 51 per cent. The number of tractors on farms increased more than a million.

Almost 3 1/2 million horses and mules disappeared from farms between 1950 and 1954. Some 1,800,000 farms now do "horseless farming."

Bar Assn. Fails To Back Mathias

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Bar Assn. yesterday endorsed seven judges for reelection next year, but failed to give its immediate approval to Ohio Supreme Court Judge John M. Mathias.

To win endorsement in the bar's incumbent judicial poll among its 438 practicing lawyers, 80 per cent affirmative answers were required to this question: "In your opinion is this judge entitled on his record to immediate endorsement for reelection?"

The bar gave no score or reason for its failure to endorse Judge Mathias.

Receiving the association nod were Chief Justice Carl V. Weyand of the Ohio Supreme Court, Appellate Judge Julius M. Kovachy, Juvenile Court Judge Albert A. Woldman, and Common Pleas Judges Charles W. White, Samuel H. Silbert, William K. Thomas and Earl R. Hoover.

LISBON — A handwriting expert, the second called by the defense in the New Waterford Bank's $13,215 judgment suit, said Monday afternoon on the witness stand that the name of Janet Williamson on the $14,000 note the bank holds was "skillfully" written by someone other than her.

M. A. Nurrenberg of Pittsburgh, the handwriting expert, said the admitted signatures of Mrs. Williamson differed from the signature on the note. He said the note was forged by someone who did a lot of writing.

Atty. Clyde Osborn of Youngstown, also billed as a handwriting expert, testified for the defense Thursday that the verified signatures of Mrs. Williamson did not match with the one on the note.

Earlier in the trial, which began Dec. 12, the bank presented Edwin H. Fearon of Pittsburgh, who said the signature on the note was Mrs. Williamson's.

Mrs. Williamson, a former East Palestine resident now residing with her husband, Robert, and their children in Belmont, Calif., is one of four defendants named in the suit. The others are her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rubich of Salem RD 5.

Williamson and the Rubiches borrowed the $14,000 from the bank to operate the Williamson Farm Equipment Co. of Salem, now defunct.

The bank contends Mrs. Williamson countersigned the note on Aug. 6, 1952. Mrs. Williamson said her name was forged. Judge Joel H. Sharp, presiding in the case, ruled last year in favor of the bank in the judgment suit and the bank is trying to collect. The Rubiches have posted their part of the payment of the note with the bank.

Mrs. Williamson said she is not involved in the suit. However, she said the bank would not relinquish the note after she offered to pay her husband's share.

16th Witness To Testify In Trial Of Reds

CLEVELAND — Ex-Communist John Lautner, the government's 16th witness and probably its final one, returns to the stand today to testify in the trial of 11 alleged Ohio Communist leaders. Lautner, a Red functionary for 20 years until his expulsion from the party in 1950, identified six of the defendants as Communist leaders yesterday.

During his testimony, defense lawyers made two motions for a mistrial, both denied by Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee, that cited newspaper accounts of the trial as prejudicial.

One story, which appeared in yesterday's Cleveland Press, dealt with Lautner's background and attributed statements to him that were not a part of his court testimony.

The other appeared in the Dec. 9 Catholic Universe Bulletin under the byline of James T. Flannery, a reporter and witness, earlier in the trial, who testified about covering two part meetings.

Defense attorneys, asserting the articles included details not in his testimony, called the story "inflammatory" and tending to "create a feeling in and around the courtroom" prejudicial to the defendants. Judge McNamee, turning down the mistrial motions, said the jurors had not seen either article.

Lautner, 44-year-old native of Hungary, testified he was a full time Communist "functionary" in Detroit, Canada, Cleveland, New York and West Virginia before 1950, when he was expelled from the party.

He said Communist doctrine held force and violence necessary to the establishment of a true socialist state, and class conflict was "unavoidable." One could not be a true Communist and still uphold the constitution of a capitalist state, he asserted.

Missionaries In China Freed After 5 Years In Red Prison

HONG KONG (AP)—Dr. and Mrs. Homer V. Bradshaw, American medical missionaries in China for nearly 20 years and prisoners of the Communists for nearly five, crossed the Hong Kong border to freedom today.

Mrs. Bradshaw appeared to be suffering from acute malnutrition and a mental breakdown.

"She doesn't realize even now that she is in free territory," the Presbyterian doctor told newsmen a half hour after an ambulance brought him and his wife to St. Teresa's Hospital from the frontier bridge of the mainland.

Bradshaw is 54 years old and his wife is about the same age.

Dr. Bradshaw said he himself had been subjected to slow starvation and suffered a complete physical breakdown last May but Red Cross food parcels he began receiving the next month helped him to recover partially.

He added that he plans to take his wife as soon as possible to her father's farm near Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Bradshaws, natives of Pittsburgh, Pa., and medical missionaries in China since 1928, reached the border of this British crown aboard the daily train from Canton.

An ambulance brought them to a Hong Kong hospital. Newsmen were shocked by Mrs. Bradshaw's pitiable condition as she turned a blank stare to their questions.

Dr. Bradshaw had been in prison first in Kwangtung and then in Canton — since their arrest in March, 1951, but his wife was transferred to house arrest in Canton when she became ill in 1953. The Chinese never made public any charges against them but the doctor said he was told last October they were accused of spying.

With the emergence of the Bradshaws from behind the Bamboo Curtain, 13 other Americans whom the Chinese had promised to free "expeditiously" were believed still in Red prisons.

Beloit Woman Files $25,000 Traffic Suit

LISBON — Alma Geller of Beloit, RD 2, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against William K. Cranston of Alliance RD 5, asking for $25,000 claimed due for injuries and damages resulting from a two-car collision Nov. 7 on Rt. 62 near the intersection of Rt. 173.

The Beloit woman said in her petition that Cranston's car struck her auto from the rear, causing her car to leave the road.

Slays Pastor For Affair With Wife

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP)—The mother of four children has backed up the accusation of her husband, charged with killing their former family pastor, that the minister "committed adultery with my wife."

Mrs. Walter Vaughn of Denver City, Tex., told a reporter that the Rev. Chester Stevens "made his way into my home under the pretense of help as my pastor. It was just pretense. It wasn't for the purpose of doing good."

Her husband, a slightly bald, thin man of 47, was charged here Monday night with firing six shots that instantly killed the 39-year-old Baptist minister in the front yard of the latter's home Saturday. A bond hearing for him was set for today.

Vaughn, looking tired and grief stricken, told reporters:

"Why, he came into my house under false pretenses and he committed adultery with my wife. . . . My wife told me. . . . Learned about it in November. . . . I trusted him completely."

Asked about her husband's statement that the minister came to the Vaughn residence for the purpose of committing adultery and did commit it, Mrs. Vaughn said "yes, it was true."

The Vaughns were members of the Denver City Baptist Church where Rev. Stevens was pastor until two months ago when he became pastor of the Harmony Baptist Church near here.

Vaughn gave this account of the shooting: He said he drove to Weatherford Saturday and saw Stevens in town. He lost track of the minister but got directions to his home at a store. Stevens drove up to his home and got out of his car. Vaughn got out in the yard and started firing a .22 pistol he had bought for his wife after she told him about an affair with the preacher.

Vaughn said "he went all to pieces" and didn't remember actually shooting the minister.

Vaughn said he did not know of Stevens' death until he was told about it in jail Monday night. Showing no emotion he said "I don't think any man should be sorry for protecting his wife and home."

Vaughn said he had served as a Sunday school teacher in the Denver City church but that Stevens "shoved me back and made me feel unwanted." He said he resigned after the minister criticized him and told him he didn't "know how to meet the public."

Vaughn said Stevens left the Denver City church after a vote of confidence went against him. He also said "my wife already told him if I found it out I'd kill him."

Vaughn surrendered shortly after the shooting but charges were not filed until Monday night after Dist. Atty. Roy J. Grogan returned from Denver City, 300 miles from here, where he took a signed statement from Mrs. Vaughn.

The Vaughns have four children, ages 8, 13, 20 and 25.

The minister was married and had three children. His 4-year-old son, Dolye, witnessed the slaying.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Her attorney filed a motion for a new trial yesterday for Miss Helen Jaffrin, convicted of contempt in Municipal Court in an alleged attempt to "fix" a traffic ticket for Miss Janice Strickland, a former Akron resident.

Miss Jaffrin is under a 10-day jail sentence, delayed during the maneuvering for another trial.

Old Drug May Treat Mental Disorders

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An age-old drug may become effective in treating mental disorders, a scientist reports.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, Ohio State University pharmacologist, says the drug is bufotenine.

Centuries ago, the Chinese used the drug in the form of dried skins and saliva of toads. Primitive Siberian tribes also obtained it, but from a species of poisonous mushroom.

Bufotenine is a synthetic derivative of a chemical found in all body tissues, especially in the mid-brain and brain stem.

Dr. Leake heads a research group studying "mood-altering" drugs and developing new ones. He said experiments on humans show bufotenine can induce relaxation and a feeling of well-being for a long period of time.

But it must be given in small doses and slowly to get this effect, he added. Otherwise, it causes nausea, tingling, disorientation and depressed feelings.

The drug's immediate effects are similar to those brought on by opium, Dr. Leake warned, and potentially can cause addiction.

He said further laboratory tests will be needed before the drug can be properly evaluated.

Rathbun Gets Life Term For Shooting Wife

CLEVELAND (AP)—The first degree murder trial of Max L. Rathbun, 31, ended abruptly today when he pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the shotgun slaying of his wife, Alma, 35.

Common Pleas Judge William K. Thomas sentenced Rathbun to life imprisonment in Ohio Penitentiary when police officials and the prosecution agreed to accept the plea to the lesser charge. He will be eligible for parole in 10 years.

"I can only say I wish it was me instead of her," Rathbun replied when he asked if he had anything to say before sentencing.

He testified he planned to kill himself after his wife admitted affairs with other men, but that she was shot when the gun was discharged accidentally as she struggled to get it away from him.

Canton Takes Step Toward Expressway

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—City council last night took another step toward a $7,500,000 north-south expressway that would involve changing the routes of Ohio 8 and Ohio 62 through the city.

The council approved a joint report of its traffic and street and alley committees, giving the Michael Baker, Jr., Engineering Co. of Rochester, Pa., authority to make test borings and prepare plans for the first of three expressway legs.

Socialism's New Model

It goes without saying that the new leader of the British Labor party, Hugh Gaitskell, will be encouraged to think of the United States in the friendliest terms.

The balance of political power in Britain is so precarious the leader of the minority never is more than one vote of confidence away from the prime ministership.

Yet it is curious that Gaitskell, like his predecessor Clement Attlee, should have a claim on American friendship no American socialist could expect to have — not even that old warhorse of homegrown ideological conflict, Norman Thomas.

If Gaitskell's ideas were espoused here, they would be so far left of the most rabid New-Fair Dealer's wildest ambitions that they would be dismissed as Marxism. Yet in Britain, these ideas have achieved as much respectability as Gaitskell, himself, or Attlee, who was elevated to an earldom by his queen when he stepped down from leadership of the Labor party.

It is a reminder that cannot be heeded too often — a reminder of a lesson taught by the English Fabians, who started a successful socialist movement in 1884, copying the tactics of a Roman general who nibbled the enemy to death by dilatory tactics. Up to that time, socialists had been wild men with an itch for bloodshed.

Gaitskell is the mid-twentieth-century model of Fabianism — a socialist who aims to destroy individualism a nibble at a time, while dressed in a conservative business suit and enjoying the good company of his contemporaries.

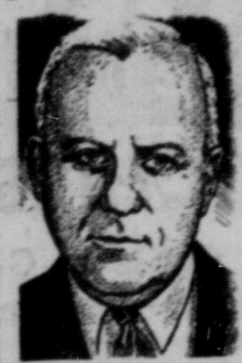

Bomb-throwers went out of style a generation ago. Even Russia socialists wear tailor-made clothes and know how to handle teacups now.

Deterioration of U.N.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Idealism Bartered For Political Expediency

The United Nations has revealed itself as just another "log-rolling" organization, with less regard for principle and morality than for political expediency. It's a blow from which the organization may never recover. For, once respect is lost, it is rarely regained.

The controversy over admitting new members was on the same low plane that one would find in Tammany Hall in New York City or in the "smoke-filled rooms" of political conventions where "deals" and "packages" are manipulated with all the artful barter and selfishness of the market place.

Nationalist China alone, by her veto of Outer Mongolia, stood out as the courageous champion of morality. Yet it is a sign of the decadence of the times that some governments, to punish the Nationalist government next year would give Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations to unarmored Red China just because the Nationalist delegate didn't bow to expediency.

THE DAY THAT RED CHINA goes in the U.N., the demand for America to step out will be resumed. It was Red China's murderous commanders who in Korea helped to bring about the death of 33,000 American boys and the wounding of 110,000 others. The same U.N., which declared Red China an aggressor now is reported to be ready to take that regime unto its bosom.

The amazing thing is the way that supposed champions of virtue — those who extol the U.N. as the last word in international morality — are themselves surrendering principle and rejoicing that Soviet Russia did finally condescend to let 16 members come into the organization. The cry is for "universality" at any cost, as if numbers rather than the qualifications of the members to carry out the obligations of the U.N. Charter were the real criterion of effectiveness.

It was Sir Percy Spender, of Australia who, with startling frankness, said the other day: "It is not principle with which we are concerned here but expediency — the expediency of inexorable political circumstances."

THIS THEN IS the new doctrine of the U.N., which in all the schools and colleges of America has heretofore been praised as the paragon of international virtue and as the last great hope of civilization to settle its disputes.

Having failed to command universal support for armed intervention to repel the aggressor in Korea, the United Nations has since been compelled to rely primarily on moral force. This moral force now had deteriorated. There can be no respect throughout the world for an organization that violates its own principals of law and order.

The Court of International Justice, for example, in an advisory ruled in 1948 that "package deals" are illegal and that admission must be on individual merits of the member rather than dependent or conditioned on the acceptance of other members.

ALL THIS NOW has been brushed aside and the new slogan seems to be "numbers for numbers' sake."

Under such circumstances, it is logical for the United States now to ask that all its 48 states be admitted to the U. N. I would argue the number of members considerably. After all, each of the 48 states is "sovereign" and, while the charter uses the term "sovereign equality," there is no incision today in the U. N. to examine the qualifications of members too carefully. Also it would solve the controversy over the Bricker Amendment, for if the various subsidiary bodies of the U. N. are to make treaties or agreements binding this country on certain domestic affairs, at least each of the 48 states would have some sort of opportunity to veto such legislation.

IF OUTER MONGOLIA, which was a part of Red China, is to be a member — and Russia now insists that Outer Mongolia must be admitted or else Japan can't be admitted — then it does seem that a case can be made also for British Columbia or Quebec or Ontario, though the British government seems to have farmed pretty well in voting strength with such sympathetic partners as Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and the union of South Africa already members of the U. N.

Only the United States among the major powers has been left with a single vote.

In due time Soviet Russia will want more of her provinces admitted, just as were the Ukraine and Byelorussia. Some day, if Red China does come into the U. N., it will demand that Inner Mongolia be accepted to balance Outer Mongolia.

So the game goes — the great hope of mankind for a union of peace-loving organizations with a devotion to idealism, instead of to materialism, has been crushed under an avalanche of brazen "deals" and "packages" set loose by unscrupulous politicians.

Personal Piffle

By TRUMAN TWILL

The great majority of Christmas presents, I believe, are bought in a mood of self-desperation, the way my brother and I once bought a piece of statuary for our mother because it was the only thing we could find for $4.75.

The funniest pun I expect to hear this month is the Comrade Hilton Hotel in Moscow.

The newest wrinkle in extracting revenue from motorists is a mechanical gimmick that will collect a fine for overparking on the spot and give the offender a receipted stub for his money. It looks something like that other revenue device, the parking meter.

When Arthur Godfrey admitted in his magazine articles that his Wednesday night TV show was a back-breaker, he hadn't gone through the harrowing experience of his Christmas toy show this year, in which many of the toys wouldn't work and one electrical cutie caught fire when it was being demonstrated.

There is no more picturesque scene in winter than a group of skaters. Like sheep, they automatically group themselves in picture poses.

Since the purchase two winters ago of a bird feeder made by an elderly man as a retirement hobby, our family has been instrumental in selling upward of two dozen just like it to admirers who wanted to know where it was purchased. The axiom about the better mousetrap and the world beating a path still holds water.

I admire Christmas lighting displays on other people's houses and property but can be thrown into a state of greenery on the front door of my own house.

President Eisenhower, always a fidgety fellow when appearing on TV, seemed more fidgety than before in his appearance last Sunday night, perhaps because he was not permitted to stand up and move about as had been prescribed by his TV coach, Robert Montgomery, for overcoming his native nervousness.

It is my belief that the roughest infighting in politics always occurs before the voters become aware that the struggle is underway — and that this is the thing to watch for in the next few months.

The sight of a pair of well-shined shoes on either a man or a woman always holds my attention because nine times out of ten the shoes are the most neglected part of the wardrobe.

The two most lonesome sounds on earth used to be wild geese on migration flights and steam locomotive whistles. A new one now has replaced them — the far-off roar of a jet plane flying a night patrol for the security of all us grandfathers.

The inns and outs of European politics and the goings and comings of European politicians are always on the verge of seeming like an old-fashioned comic opera. But instead of bursting into song, they burst into war, instead.

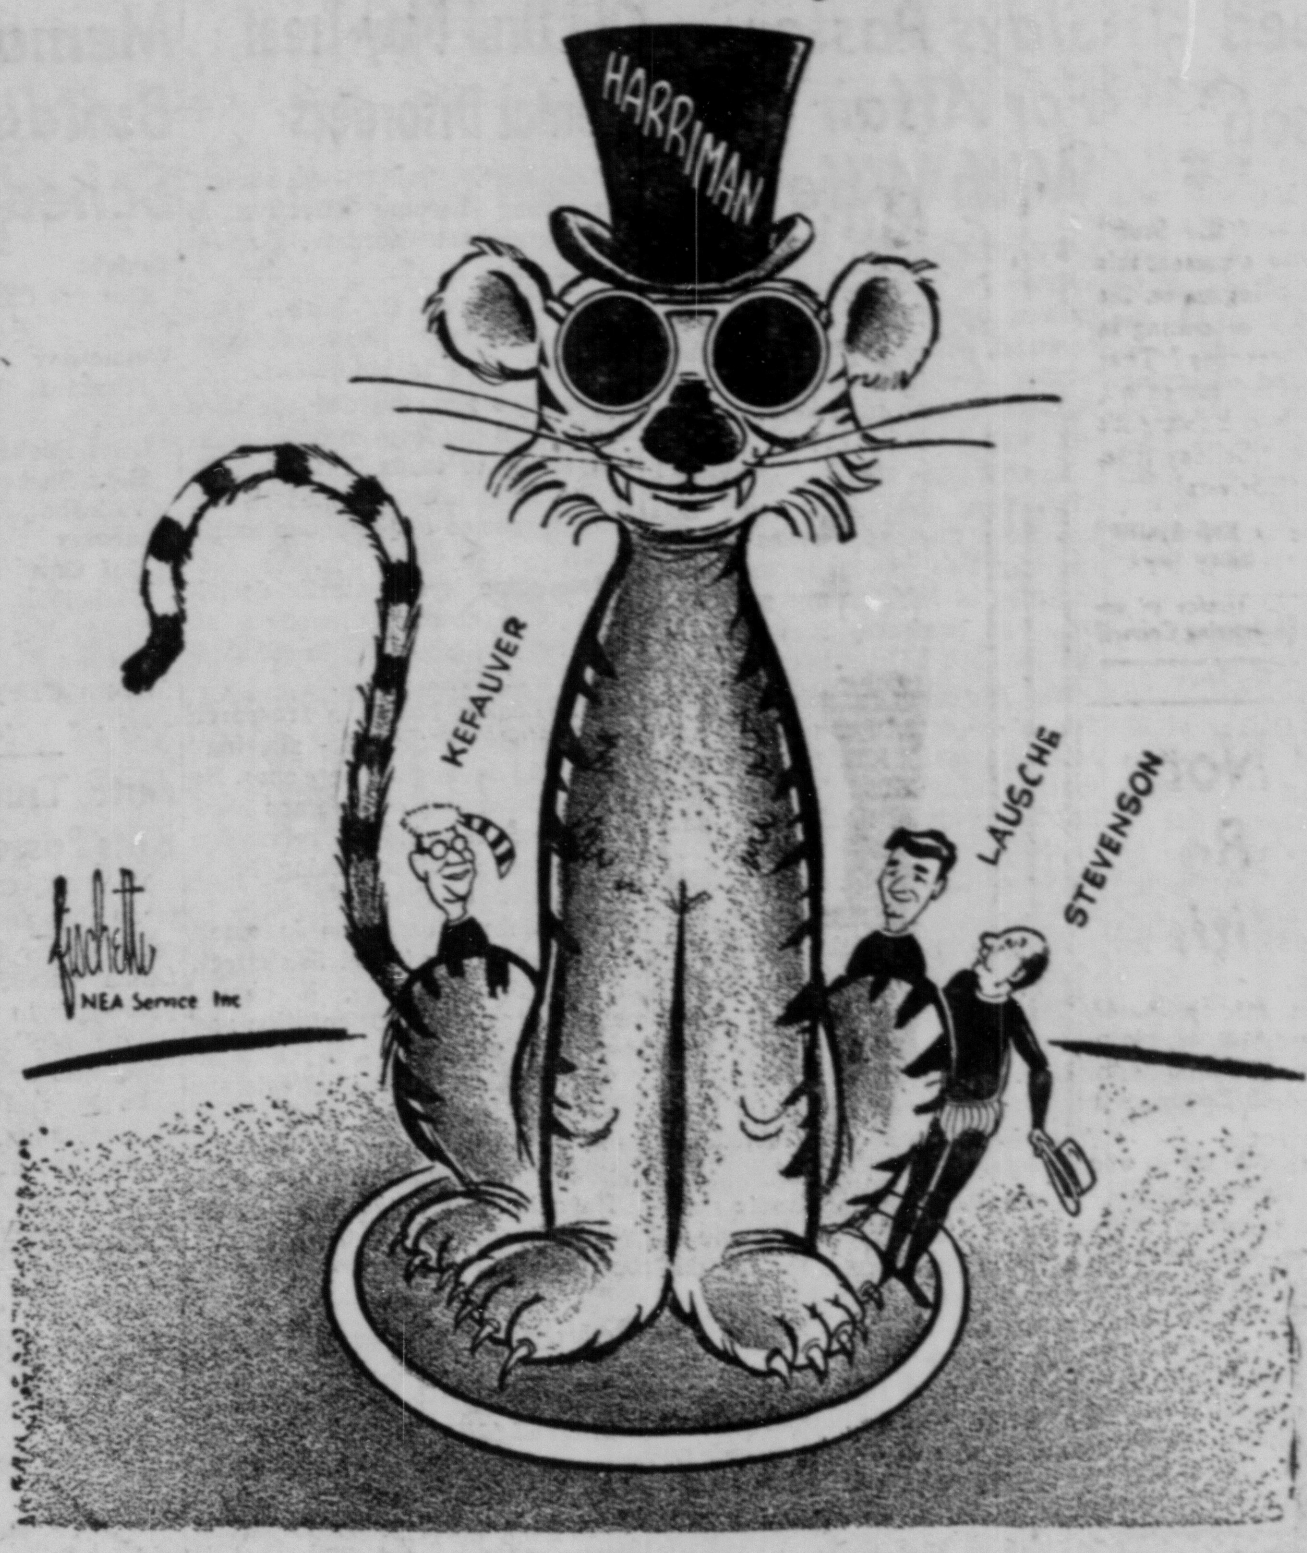

When people say they would like to have a dog but do not have the space to keep one, I remember an article that appeared in a highbrow magazine many years ago, in which the idea was developed that the commonest goal of human beings is to possess more space.

Japanese Pawn

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

What the Russians seem to have accomplished by their very intricate maneuver in the United Nations over the membership question was to insult Japan; to attempt to give Japan the impression that the United States is not sufficiently powerful to get Japan into the United Nations; that it is not powerful enough to get Japan into the United Nations; that it is not powerful enough to get Japan into the United Nations.

THE JAPANESE are having serious fish troubles. The Russians could well afford to be generous and to give the Japanese a pleasant fisheries treaty, which would make the Russians very popular in Japan.

The United States has had to take a complete defeat in the linking of Japan with Mongolia. Japan is an ancient sovereign country; Outer Mongolia is a province of China under Russian control.

To balance Japan with Mongolia is an affront to the Japanese people, unwarranted by history or the present status of the two areas.

While it is Soviet Russia that offered this insult to Japan, no Western country arose on the spot to defend the honor and dignity of Japan, although Henry Cabot Lodge did try to get Japan into the United Nations.

NOW WE MUST EXPECT some repercussions in Japan which must find a market for its manufactured goods and can find an excellent one in the Soviet universal state.

The Japanese will be among the first to suffer from such an attitude and they have had a long and tragic experience with it. They would prefer not to be too dependent upon a single market.

Soviet Russia is short of most of the goods that are manufactured in Japan.

A NATURAL MARKET for Japanese products, one that Japan has assiduously and at great cost cultivated, runs from Manchuria to the Indian Ocean on the mainland of Asia. Most of that market is now Communist-controlled. It is fatuous for Americans to expect that the Japanese will long stay out of that market for purely ideological reasons. The British have gone into it and many Americans would like to cultivate it. But for the Japanese it has this further attraction, that primary articles of food, rice, wheat, soy beans, can be obtained at reasonable prices, bartered for manufactured goods. Then again, the Japanese prefer fish to beef and some of their principal fishing grounds were given to Russia by Franklin D. Roosevelt in one of his more generous moments.

Canada has not been included in any of the recent conferences among the principal powers because Canada is not a principal power.

NEVERTHELESS, since Lester Pearson has become Canada's secretary of state for external affairs, he has thrown his weight about to the detriment and harm of the United States.

It is supposed not to be wise to say anything unfriendly about Canada, lest the Canadian cartels rise the price of newsprint or lower the price of whiskey or in some manner interfere with the American economy.

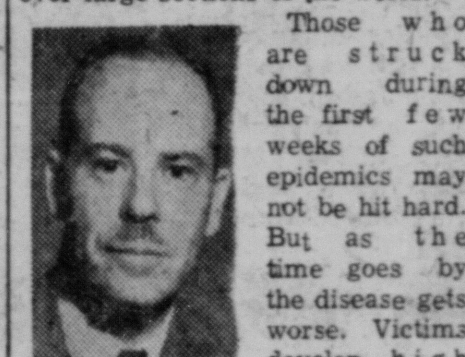

The day may come when Americans grow weary of Pearson's shenanigans and then there may be the unpleasantness of retaliation. It is all so unnecessary.

Your Health

Influenza

From time to time influenza — the dread "flu" bug — has spread over large sections of the world.

Those who are struck down during the first few weeks of such epidemics may not be hit hard. But as the time goes by the disease gets worse. Victims develop high fever and more serious complications.

Even when epidemic influenza is at its peak, however, those who go to bed at once and stay there until their fever has been down for several days almost always recover.

Unfortunately, when a bad epidemic is present numerous members of the same family may be struck ill at about the same time. Thus, the one most nearly well is under great pressure to get up and take care of others. This early rising from the sick bed carries terrible risks.

The last world-wide epidemic of influenza was that of 1917-18. During that period more people in the United States died from influenza or its immediate complications than were killed in World War I.

Since then there have been some large epidemics though none as bad.

The cause of influenza is a virus. But there are several varieties which have been found in lesser epidemics. They go under such names as Virus A, A prime, and B. Influenza viruses can be grown by a complicated method on egg yolk.

What is needed to combat influ-

THE RUSSIAN conduct raises anew the value of the United Nations as a parliament of man. It is supposed to function in accordance with the Charter, but both the spirit and the letter of the Charter are being ignored in the deals that nations cook up to achieve small ends.

The 18-membership deal was schemed up by the Canadians who seek to develop some kind of leadership, when, after all, a small country of only 15 million persons, economically and defensively dependent upon the United States, cannot assume very telling leadership because it can exhibit no power.

Canada has not been included in any of the recent conferences among the principal powers because Canada is not a principal power.

NEVERTHELESS, since Lester Pearson has become Canada's secretary of state for external affairs, he has thrown his weight about to the detriment and harm of the United States.

It is supposed not to be wise to say anything unfriendly about Canada, lest the Canadian cartels rise the price of newsprint or lower the price of whiskey or in some manner interfere with the American economy.

The day may come when Americans grow weary of Pearson's shenanigans and then there may be the unpleasantness of retaliation. It is all so unnecessary.

enza is a method of preventing it. The most promising line, as with many other diseases is the development of a vaccine which can be given to human beings and which will raise their resistance to the disease.

Much research work has gone into efforts to develop such a vaccine but it has been hampered. Not only are there technical difficulties in preparing a vaccine which would do the job against all the varieties of virus but also there has been comparatively little influenza during the past few years against which a vaccine could be tried out.

It is uncertain as to whether any vaccine now available would definitely stop a world-wide epidemic. However, there is evidence that a properly constituted vaccine is effective, in at least some of the cases.

Further improvements in a vaccine against influenza are to be expected from additional research.

It may be mentioned that the vaccine is prepared from viruses grown on egg yolk and therefore a few people who are sensitive to eggs or chicken should not receive this preparation.

What we hope for particularly is the development of a highly effective vaccine before the next world-wide epidemic hits us, the latter being a likely possibility because of the history of the disease.

These are the days when all the housewife shoppers wait until the evening rush hour to drive home.

There's many a touching scene in the home these days, with mom needing Christmas shopping dough from dad.

A New York man was jailed for keeping his children out of school. The kids will hate the judge.

Two Indiana men pleaded not guilty to stealing 25 gallons of cream. Could it have been plain vanilla cream.

Mom probably will continue to give dad slippers and a pipe for Christmas — the loser.

Once Over

No Biz Like Show Biz

Say what you will of the two Nicks, the Aga Khrushchev and the Maharajah Bulganin, they are real showmen. They brought us back to such teams as Gallagher and Sheen, the Howard Brothers and Weber and Fields, master of knockabout routines, clever timing, punch lines and funny costuming.

Ed Wynn got his start with funny hats, but he never had so many as these two Russian players. Genuine troupers, they were at home on the road. If reviewing the show for "Variety" under "New Acts" we would say: Khrushchev and Bulganin (duo); These two boys, long held to represent the Russian tragicomic school, pull the biggest switcheroo of the 1953 season in show biz. They sink all Moscow Theater, patterns without trace, going all out for box-office appeal and scoring no angles that will hold audiences.

In Geneva summer theater engagement this pair first flashed song and dance routine to the astonishment of audiences expecting heavy, if not ponderous style of orthodox Kremlin performers.

Following this engagement with "Boatin' in the Park" in Moscow, straight out of an old Chaplin bit. Team then booked into Asia for the Nehru Circuit where they played three weeks to record crowds. Tour opened in New Delhi with native Indian sketch "So This Is Neutrality" where Moscow boys did everything but the Indian Rope Trick and coarsely charming.

Went into a spectacular billed as "The Flowery Wardrobe," with Khrushchev singing "Every morn I bring thee violets" and Bulganin doing "Dance of the Seven Veiled Promises." For encore did a duet "Pale Hands" a steal from the Kashmiri Love Song, and done in obvious preparation for later use.

BOOKING TOOK TEAM to Jaipur, Calcutta and Rangoon, in an extravaganza "The Road to Mardalay" and tableau "By the Old Moulmein Pagoda." Costuming became more extravagant with each performance, with both wearing wider variety of costumes than anything seen in the old staircase numbers on Ziegfeld Roof. At end of tour Bulganin looked part Rajah, part medicine man, part TV "spectacular" and part Talent Scouts contestant. Khrushchev seemed to be trying to do a swami, a Ramar of the Jungle and a property man for a Chinese theater.

All the act lacked was Indian clubs, a white rabbit, a trick bicycle and a trapeze. This act is shy on class and suffers from sameness, but packs plenty of showmanship. Is bound to go good in town not hep to best in entertainment and satisfied with novelty routines.

SINCE THAT WIRE TAPPING scandal in New York it isn't safe to refer to a detective as "the lean and wiry type."

The super Santa Claus of 1953 is the ghost of Henry Ford, sitting up there on a cloud chucking as 500 million dollars is poured into the stockings of schools, colleges and hospitals needing the money so that teachers may be better paid and that educational and medical services may be bettered. It is the largest one-time gift package of the ages and we can imagine Henry the First whizzing through the skies and coming down the chimney of the sick, the underpaid and the struggling students. No sleigh. And no reindeers. Just the original Ford hauled by Model T's and Lizzies. And with Henry crying, "On nine hundred and ninety nine! On Lizzie! On Model T! etc." . . . It was for those early cars that Henry had his greatest love.

2 GIs Found Innocent In Berlin Fracas

BERLIN (AP) — A six-man U. S. Army court acquitted two American soldiers today of disorderly conduct charges based on their arrest in the Soviet sector of Berlin. The court ruled that Pvt. Willie J. Holden, of Poplarville, Miss., and Richard L. Calbert, of Kansas City, Mo., were innocent in a brawl which led to their arrest by Communist East German police and their subsequent release by the Russians.

The case aroused wide interest because the East German Reds, claiming that East Berlin is part of "sovereign" East Germany, demand that their courts try the men. The Russians, however, abided by the four-power rules long in use in divided Berlin and returned the soldiers to U. S. authorities.

A refugee, Mrs. Helene Ehlers, testified today that an East German cabaret performer, Werner Lierck, provoked an argument with the two soldiers at a Soviet sector bar on Dec. 7. The witness said the German repeatedly assailed the soldiers as "American swine" and tried to attack one of them. When Lierck lunged toward Holden, the woman testified, Holden hit him in self-defense.

Mrs. Ehlers was on her way from East Germany to West Berlin when she saw the incident.

The soldiers testified that they tried their best to get away from Lierck in order to return to West Berlin. They said that after the fracas they jumped in an East Berlin taxi but the driver delivered them to the Communist police.

In the East Berlin police station, Holden said he was struck across the face and clubbed several times after he tried to stand up.

The Germans turned the soldiers over to the Russians after a few hours. The men said during three days of Soviet detention they were questioned on the military details of their regimental unit. They were not mistreated by the Russians, however.

The soldiers were returned to active duty after the court decision was handed down.

WANT YOUR LIFE FOR CHRISTMAS?

Suppose those adult "Kid Stuff" drivers might give us a present this year—like not crowding us on the road, or racing past, or cutting in and out without warning? That would be mighty good for us all, and good for them, too. Because it's great to stay alive at holiday time, even for "Kid Stuff" drivers!

"Careless driving is KID STUFF" It can kill our holiday joy!

Foreman Not A Man To Be Trifled With

CHICAGO (AP)—Brooks Faulk, 49, a construction foreman, is plainly not a man to be trifled with. Neither is Fire Chief Edwin Williams, 41.

Williams parked his auto and trailer beside the new Congress street expressway Saturday where a construction crew was working.

"Your car is in the way. You can't park there," said Faulk. "I don't see any no parking sign. The car stays here," said Williams.

Faulk told a bulldozer operator to "Tear that car to pieces." The dozer man shook his head negatively.

Then Faulk ordered Guy R. Hamm, 44, operator of a bucket crane, into action. Hamm lifted and dropped Williams' car three times—the last time raising it 20 feet before allowing it to crash down.

Later, after five police squads had taken an interest in the situation, Faulk apologized and offered to pay for damage to car and trailer—estimated by Williams at about $800.

Faulk was charged with disorderly conduct. Hamm was booked on charges of malicious mischief and disorderly conduct.

Two things that make for SAFER driving!

The first and most important thing is you — the driver. The courtesy, care, and common sense you show count more than anything else.

The second thing is the car itself. All cars are safer today. That's shown by the number of accidents in relation to the number of miles passenger cars are driven. The figure's down sharply.

Chevrolet has always made safety a major consideration, introducing many such features as the all-steel top, into its field. And this '56 Chevrolet is the safest one ever built.

Its lively new power means safer passing. Its special Ball-Race steering—oversize brakes with Anti-Dive control—bring easier, surer driving. The Unisteel construction and safety door latches of its Fisher Body—the nailed-to-the-rod stability that comes from advanced suspension and better balance — the sweeping panoramic windshield — all these things add to your safety.

Seat belts with or without shoulder harness? Instrument panel padding? Of course, they're available at extra cost. As your Chevrolet dealer, we'll be glad to show you the many safety features of the '56 Chevrolet.

News of the World in Pictures

HER PUBLIC LIFE IS A SONG—Rita Paul von Pilgrim doubles as a professional "pop" singer (left) in Frankfurt, Germany, under the name of Rita Paul, and then reverts to her role as a Los Angeles, Calif., housewife, romping with her son (right). She is currently making films in Germany. When finished, she'll take up homemaking again.

HOLIDAY HERALD—One of the world's most famous Christmas trees was lighted in New York's Rockefeller Center for the 23rd consecutive year recently. General view shows nine-foot angels and 65-foot Norway spruce with lights.

SYMBOLISM AT THE UNITED NATIONS?—Can there be a special meaning to this photo of the United Nations Security Council chamber with its vast area of empty seats, except for one solitary figure working alone? He is Dr. Tingfu Tsiang, Nationalist China's representative and opponent of the "package deal" to admit 18 new nations.

A PUZZLING PROBLEM—Two-year-old Brian Teller is wondering just what to do with this five-pound crawfish caught by his dad near Miami, Fla. Brian's even thinking about taking it back home to Babylon, N. Y., to show it off to the neighborhood.

PICTURES for the ALBUM

Fast panchromatic film was used for this bright scene with f/16 exposure at 1/25th.

ANYONE who has looked at a particularly striking snow scene may well wish he had taken a picture of it for his album. If he had had his camera ready, here are a few tips he might have used to take those pictures: (1) Know what type of picture you want. Get an idea that appeals to you, one that tells a story. (2) Don't be afraid to ask someone to perform for you in exchange for a print or two. This is especially true of sports subjects. (3) Pick the best location. Select a pleasing background, choose the best angle and focus your camera on a spot where the action will take place. (4) Select the correct shutter speed to stop the motion and next the right lens aperture for the exposure. Then you're on the way toward a photo you'll be proud of. Remember—skiers and skaters look best when banking for a stop or a turn.

The camera fan now has story-telling shot for an album.

FROM SATELLITES TO SKINDIVING—Rocket expert Dr. Werhner von Braun, a leading exponent of the man-made satellite idea, decided to take a plunge in the other direction by becoming a skin diver at Miami, Fla. Equipped to take to the deep (left), he went down among the fish in this underwater shot (right). He's done diving before.

Lie Detector Used In County Lawsuit

LISBON — An attempt today to submit the results of a lie detector test as testimony in the New Waterford Bank's judgment suit, has set a precedent in civil suits in Columbiana County, defense attorneys in the case believe.

They said that, as far as they knew, it is the first time that an attempt was made to submit lie detector findings in a civil suit in the county.

Charles McInerney of Pittsburgh, associated with the Pittsburgh and Allegheny County Crime Laboratory, said this morning in Common Pleas court that according to the lie detector test he gave her, Jane Williamson, one of the defendants, did not sign the $14,000 note on which the bank holds judgment.

Judge Joel H. Sharp, presiding in the case, rendered a $13,215 judgment in favor of the bank last year against Mrs. Williamson, her husband, Robert, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rubich of RD 5, Salem.

Mrs. Williamson contends she did not sign the note, although her name appears on it.

Williamson and the Rubichs borrowed the money from the bank to operate the Williamson Farm Equipment Company of Salem, now out of business. The Williamsons, former East Palestine residents, now live in Belmont, Calif.

The bank's attorneys objected to McInerney testifying with the jury present because they had no notice of the test and had no opportunity to insert their own questions in the questions the examiner gave Mrs. Williamson.

Judge Sharp sustained the bank's objection. He excused the jury and McInerney then gave the results of the test.

Both the bank's counsel and defense counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Rubich asked the court that the judge, in his charge to the jury, specify that the implications of the test not be considered in reaching a verdict.

Rev. Albert L. Linder of Youngstown, testifying for the defense this morning, said when Mrs. Williamson discussed the New Waterford Bank matter with him, the "contended she had not signed the note."

Tore Down Flag

(The U. S. source in Jerusalem said the crowds, shouting anti-Western slogans, pulled down the American flag at the consulate. An Arab legion detachment fired in the air and dispersed them.)

A UNWRA plane was refused permission to land at Amman Airport this morning. The agency has the task of caring for the approximately one million Arab refugees from the Palestine War of 1948.

The Baghdad alliance is a Western-backed defense grouping including Britain, Iran, Iraq, Pakistan, and Turkey. The proposal to include Jordan stirred frenzied resentment among Jordanians who feared it might mean abandoning the country's claims against Israel.

The 4 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew for Jordan-held Bethlehem — Christ's birthplace — was ordered after 20 to 30 demonstrators stormed the Turkish consulate in the Jordan sector of Jerusalem, burning the Turkish flag and wounding the consul general. Four rioters were reported killed and 27 wounded by fire from Jordanian troops.

The curfew obviously was a safety measure to protect Christian pilgrims, particularly those from the West, who flock to the scene of the Nativity only five miles southwest of Jerusalem. It was not clear what effect the curfew would have on the traditional Christmas Eve services there.

Beloit

BELOIT — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harold were hosts at a family Christmas dinner party Sunday at their home. The exchanging of gifts highlighted the party.

Those attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Harold and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Trimmer of Beloit, Mr. and Mrs. Weston Sears of Alliance, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harold of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Gerd Oesch of Berlin Center, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boker of RD, Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Harold of Beloit, Mr. and Mrs. Dalbert McDonald of Westville and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wire of Youngstown.

Columbiana industries are operating full, some with extra shift and others with extra hours. Franklin Furniture Co. has orders that will keep it busy for six months. Buyers were here from all parts of the country at its recent semi-annual show.

The F. C. Russell Co., which usually experiences a seasonal slump at this time, is busy now and expects to avoid the usual shutdown the first of the year.

The Enterprise Co. has two shifts, each working a 50-hour week. The day shift works nine hours five days a week and five hours on Saturday, and the night shift works 10 hours five nights. National Rubber Machinery Co. is operating with its usual eight-hour shifts five days a week in the machine shop and foundry.

The Harrold Tool Co. has a plentiful supply of steel and is operating steadily. The Columbiana Pump Co. is working two shifts with all the men it can get, the foundry department, especially, having a large backlog. Although the steel supply is short, the Columbiana Boiler has been able to operate steadily with plenty of work.

POSTMASTER S. E. Tidd reports the heaviest volume of Christmas mail this year in the history of the Columbiana office. Ten extra helpers have been added to the force. Extra carriers, who are making two deliveries daily in the residential areas, were on duty Sunday and the office force worked Sunday and is working each evening.

The fire department was called at 9:15 a.m. yesterday to the home of James Gaughn, Jr., Park Drive, opposite Firestone Park, where a short circuit had caused smoke in the cellar. There was no damage.

AUXILIARY OF Firestone American Legion Post will have its Christmas party in connection with its regular meeting in the Legion home at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The W.C.T.U. elected officers in connection with its Christmas party last Wednesday afternoon at the home of its retiring president, Mrs. L. A. Herdle, Lower Elkton Road. A coverdinner was served at noon. Mrs. Herdle had resigned in September, the regular time for the election of officers, but agreed to serve until the first of the year.

Mrs. Anna Nolsheim was elected president, Mrs. Arno Holderread, vice president, and Mrs. John Berchold treasurer. A secretary will be elected later. No more meetings will be held until April or May.

THE SOROSIS Club will have its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. E. T. Coyle, 410 N. Main St., at 8 p.m. Wednesday when associate members and those on the waiting list will be invited guests. Mrs. Joseph Woodward, Mrs. Florence Campbell and Mrs. Coyle will have charge of the program. There will be a gift exchange. Mrs. Curtis Bierley, Mrs. Homer Culp and Mrs. Wilbur Ward will be co-hostesses. Columbiana Clippers will play Poland here tonight, and will play at Lisbon Friday night.

Other Arab diplomatic sources said the Arab countries have not given the State Department any outline of position comparable to the Israeli one.

The Israeli sources said their package of proposals was based on talks in which there could be no question of territorial cession, except for minor frontier changes.

They said Israel also stands firm on the principle of resettling in other Arab lands the former Palestine Arabs who left the country, but would discuss compensation for them under the Dulles suggestions. These include a loan by the United States, and possibly other countries, to help Israel meet the compensation cost.

County VFW Unit Gives $856 Gift To Children's Home

The Columbiana County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, presented a check for $856 to the Fairmount Children's Home Band when the home held its annual Christmas program Sunday.

The money represented proceeds from the tag day held sometime ago by the County VFW Council, announced Rex Reich, who was commander at that time.

Also making the presentation during the home program were Jack Ryan of East Liverpool, county commander, and Charles Dimco, commander of the Salem VFW post who also is county quartermaster.

Although new red and black uniforms had been purchased for the Fairmount Children's Home band, the $856 will bolster the fund for future purchases.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

For some two months now a major labor war, costing well over 20 million dollars, has been nerve-racking 40 communities, alerting state police and unleashing pickets on a front from Wall Street itself to the mid-west. Yet, outside of the struck cities, the public has paid it little attention, though the issues are crucial.

For weeks now 55,000 workers have struck the Westinghouse Electric Corp., makers of everything from boilers to atomic motors to mighty turbines. These strikers have been losing about a million dollars a day in wages. Executives, engineers and scientists have had their pay slashed in half by the company for the duration.

The company itself lost about 150 million dollars in production during the first 60 days of strike—which is, in part, by Jim Carey's AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, but in part, too, by the Sovietizing independent United Electrical Workers.

CAREY LEADS 44,000 strikers. The other 11,000 are spoken for by a veteran pro-Communist, Jim Maties, frequently accused before congressional committees of being one of the top Communist labor functionaries in the nation.

When both sides lose heavily in a long strike, the realists know that there are behind-the-scenes reasons for the costly showdown—reasons which don't crop up in the running exchanges between company and union? As business circles see it, one of the issues in this 20 million dollar strike is whether or not a major company must shut down production and refrain from recruiting non-strikers when a union shows picket lines around its plant.

Westinghouse Corp. refused to shut the gates of its plants. Thus Westinghouse became the first major mass industry company to attempt to defy AFL-CIO union picket lines in many years.

THERE HAVE BEEN smaller firms, with three and four plants, and there have been giant companies which have tried to operate one struck plant—but no national corporation has attempted a back-to-work movement in decades. Westinghouse has now. There has been violence. A union official's car was blown up. Cables have been stretched across plant gates. Employees' homes and one factory have been stoned. A pole was rammed through a supervisor's car.

Pickets have had their eyes blackened. Some men have gone back to work in some plants, Jim Carey has appealed to the White House—and the White House has remained neutral, as it said it would in all but national emergencies.

THUS THE PATTERN of indus-

'Mademoiselle'

By EDDY GILMORE

ARMENTIERES, France (U)—Most of the people in the home-town of one of the most fabled and libeled ladies of song—Mademoiselle From Armentieres—never heard of her and those who did wish they could forget it.

The first seven citizens of this city in the northeast corner of France who were asked about the fabulous female of World War I, could furnish no information.

"Mademoiselle From Armentieres?" asked an incredulous French policeman, "Monsieur, we have many, but a policeman is not precisely the person of whom to inquire."

A businessman hurrying along a cobblestoned street to a wool brokerage office was next in the line of inquiry. He raised his hat at the question, but he raised his bushy eyebrows higher.

"Monsieur," he suggested, "would do better to look in Paris for such a person. Paris is gay and cosmopolitan, while here in Armentieres, we are dull and provincial and our girls, well—"

At last, a man driving a team of horses hitched to a beer wagon said that if we would ask at the corner bistro for Monsieur Guy Grandjean, he might know what we were talking about.

Monsieur Grandjean, fortunately, was in his inn. He was short and grey. He had a drooping grey mustache and he saddened visibly when he heard the question.

"Please, Monsieur," he said, "don't sing the song about her. You are an American. That is nothing against you, but I've heard enough of that song about the Mademoiselle from Armentieres."

"Tell him," I told the interpreter, "that I don't want to sing the song. I just want to know what he knows, or what any citizen of this town knows about someone who, in certain circles, must be about the best known woman in France."

Monsieur Grandjean tightened his lips.

"Several persons," he said, "have claimed to be the original mademoiselle of this song that went 'pinkey, pinkey parlez vous'—"

"Hinky, dinky, parlez vous," I corrected him.

"No matter," he said, she is not here now and I doubt if she ever was here."

"No monument to her?" I asked.

"No little plate on any house?" "Monsieur," he gasped, a little shocked at the suggestion, "Do you know the words of this song?" I told him I did. Most emphatically.

He held up his hand in protest. "Monsieur, if you please, you promised not to sing."

Calmed and assured by the interpreter, Monsieur Grandjean answered a lot of questions about some place such as Clermont Ferrand."

"If you are going to guess," I said, "Toulouse would be better."

Life, Must Pay In Death

CINCINNATI (U)—Mrs. Corene Moore "never paid taxes in her life," the probate court was told yesterday, but she will have to pay them in death.

Mrs. Moore, a confectionery operator, left an estate of more than $40,000. Judge Chase M. Davies authorized Atty. Leonard Kirschner to reach an agreement with United States tax officials.

Kirschner said Mrs. Moore owed $5,509.94 plus interest and possible fraud penalties.

Ohio Governors Get Offer Of New Mansion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Ohio governors will have a new mansion to live in if the state emergency board today accepts the gift of an Illinois clergyman.

The Rt. Rev. Charles U. Harris, rector of Trinity Church, Highland Park, Ill., earlier this year offered a 24-room home in nearby Bexley as the governor's mansion.

Joseph A. Gill, first assistant attorney general, said he will bring the offer before the emergency board today.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche's attaches doubt the governor and his wife would move into the new home in 1956, the last year of Lausche's fifth term. The Lausches now live about two miles east of downtown Columbus.

Most asteroids have a period of revolution between three and one-half to six years.

Quakers Seek 4th Win In Game Here With Bulldogs Tonight

East Palestine Has Dropped One, Won Two This Season

By CARL NADRASY

The undefeated Quaker cagers will seek their fourth victory in a row tonight when they play host to the East Palestine Bulldogs in the high school gymnasium.

It will be the last tilt of 1955 for the Cabasmen, who will attempt to keep their record unblemished over the holidays.

The locals will have a slight edge tonight, in comparing the season's records of both squads. Coach Don Hinton's charges have recorded two wins and one loss so far in the season. The Bulldogs' two wins were over Dover St. Joseph and New Springfield, while their loss was served up by the Wellsville Bengals.

Starting the fourth game on the 18-game schedule for the Bulldogs will be center George Huston, a junior; forwards Robert Henderson, senior, and Sam Hirt, sophomore; and guards John Dunlap, senior, and Tom Young, junior.

YOUNG HAS BEEN the big gun for the downstaters with his clever ball handling and point-getting ability.

Salem and East Palestine cage teams have played against each other 20 times over the years with the locals taking the edge 16 times. Last year the Cabasmen thoroughly trounced East Palestine 81-37.

Salem Coach John Cabas will probably be going along with most of his original starters in the tilt tonight.

Mark Fenton, out of the Columbiana tilt due to illness, practiced with the team last night and will dress for the game tonight. It was obvious in the Columbiana fray that Fenton's height was sorely needed. His work on the boards, along with Matt Klein, were definite factors in the first two season victories.

Sophomore Jim Meissner, who came into last Friday night's game as a substitute and led the scoring with 24 markers, will undoubtedly be in there tonight at tip-off time at an outside post.

The other three Salem players will be regulars who have started every game. They are Jack Alexander and Rich Hunter outside and Matt Klein underneath the bucket.

FROM WHAT HAS been observed in the scoring column in the first three games, it looks like this year's edition of the Quaker cagers will have a more balanced scoring punch than most teams in the past. In the three games played thus far, three different players have been high scorers.

Jack Alexander led the scoring parade in the Ursuline game with 20 points. Rich Hunter was high in the Struthers tilt with 28 markers and Meissner led with 24 in the Columbiana fray.

Coach Karl Zellers' Reserve team, undefeated in its two starts this year, will be seeking win number three when it takes the floor against the East Palestine Reserves at 7 p. m.

Officials for the game tonight are M. J. Maro of Campbell, referee and Keith Laughlin of Columbiana, umpire.

Season passes to all home games and reserve and general admission tickets for tonight's fray are on sale today at Fisher's News Agency and Heddleston's Drug Store.

Fiore, Poirier Fight To 10 Round Draw

NEW YORK (AP)—Carmine Fiore and Gene Poirier battled 10 furious rounds to a draw Monday night in a middleweight scrap at St. Nick's Arena.

It was a sizzler with Fiore, of Brooklyn, the 12 to 5 favorite, piling up an early lead. But the 23-year-old Niagara Falls welter closed with a rush to get the draw. Referee Peter Della scored it 4-4-2 with four points for each and judge Leo Birnbaum saw it 5-5 with five points for each. Judge Al Singer voted for Fiore 7-3, but the majority rules. The AP card was 5-5. A crowd of 900 paying $1.446 booed the decision. There were no knockdowns. Fiore weighed 149½, Poirier 150½.

Strader Fired As 49er Coach

"Incompatibility" Is Grounds For Ousting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers were in the market for a new coach today after firing one a year ago for failure to win a National Football League title and his successor Monday on grounds of "incompatibility" after a 48 season.

Coach Norman (Red) Strader, hired on a three-year contract last Dec. 23 to replace Lawrence (Buck) Shaw, was "relieved of his coaching duties," effective immediately, by owner, Tony Morabito.

"There was a little dissension, some resentment," Morabito said. "In a nutshell, the players were playing under Red and not for him. It was a case of incompatibility."

Morabito, admitting that "we have some cry babies on the club," said that "a lot of little things, like ordering meals and setting a bed time, kept building up."

"In the overall picture," he continued, "I don't think you can treat grown men like children. I'm not saying Red was wrong, maybe he was right; it's a matter of opinion. But it's easier to replace one man than 33, you'll have to admit."

Strader, holder of a three-year agreement, said he "was told that the 49ers will respect that contract."

Shrader, 50, indicated he was hurt by the incompatibility charge.

"I've been coaching for 25 years and one of my strong points always has been to get the most out of my players. This was a very cooperative group. They gave me the game ball at the end of the season and it certainly wasn't a phony gesture because there's not a phony guy on the club."

Morabito said he had no one in mind as Strader's successor but hoped to make a choice by the time of the NFL draft Jan. 17.

Tank Younger Injured, Out Of Title Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The loss of fullback Tank Younger is viewed as a staggering blow to the Los Angeles Rams as they try to revise their offense for the pro football championship game here next Monday against the Cleveland Browns.

Coach Sid Gillman didn't lose any time naming Younger's replacement, 230-pound Dan Towler, who has been on the injured reserve list for a month.

Younger sustained a fracture of a neck vertebra in a game, Dec. 11. He was a driving force in the Rams' drive to the western conference title.

Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch, injured Dec. 4, is ready to go, but he probably will be spelled by Woodley Lewis, safety man who did a fine job of pass catching in relief.

Aside from Younger the Rams are in fairly good physical condition.

Buckeyes Win Fifth; Freeman, Howard Star

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ohio State, with sophomore Frank Howard in the starring role, picked up victory number five last night against a hard-fighting, defensive-minded Tulane basketball team.

The Bucks, with high-scoring Robin Freeman limited to a "meager" output of 21 points, staved off a second half rally by the Green Wave quintet to take a 72-66 decision.

Howard was the big factor in the Ohio victory, scoring 18 points and grabbing 20 rebounds. Freeman, who had averaged 37.2 points per game, found his famed jump shot ineffective against the tight guarding of Tulane's Roy Stoll, a six foot senior. Stoll shadowed Freeman all night, using the old textbook defense of waving his hands violently in Freeman's face.

Freeman, hitting seven baskets in 19 attempts, picked up most of his field goals on driving layups.

The Bucks jumped away to a 41-30 halftime advantage and held the lead the rest of the game. Cal Grosscup, a six-foot-four forward, led the losers with 20 points. Ohio has lost only to Vapderbilt.

FIGHT RESULTS

New Orleans—Willie Pastrano, 185, New Orleans, outpointed Rex Layne, 208½, Lewiston, Utah, 10.
New York—Gene Poirier, 150½, Niagara Falls, N. Y., drew with Carmine Fiore, 149½, Brooklyn 10.

N. Waterford Wins 5th Season Game

New Waterford won its fifth game of the season against one loss when it overcame Millvale 80-70 in a cage contest held at New Waterford last night.

Ronald Seachrist paced the New Waterford attack, netting 25 points. Dewey Brown scored 19 for the Trojans. Hoser was high scorer for Millvale with 20 markers.

The game was tied 16 all at the end of the first quarter, but the Trojans tallied 24 points in the second period to edge away 40-33.

New Waterford padded its lead in third stanza, scoring 20 points to 10 for Millvale, and tallied an additional 20 markers in the final period to win handily.

The Trojans will play again tonight when they meet Malvern on the Malvern floor.

2 Get Life Terms For Slaying Guard

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—James Baus, 18, and Leo F. Sersich, 26, two former inmates of Lima State Hospital charged with the July 21 suffocation slaying of guard Glenn Farmer, have been sentenced to life in Ohio Penitentiary.

Baus, of Toledo, and Sersich, of Warren, changed their pleas yesterday from innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to guilty of second degree murder.

The two, together with Thomas Womack, 32, Cleveland, had been indicted for first degree murder. Common Pleas Judge M. B. Jenkins and Prosecutor Anthony Bowes allowed the lesser pleas. Womack did not enter a plea.

Farmer was killed during an escape attempt from the institution for the criminally insane. The three men were found capable of standing trial at a sanity hearing preceding the pleas.

Air Force To Erect Reserve Classroom

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Air Force will erect a classroom building for reservists in Maple Heights next year at a cost of $500,000. It was announced today by the suburb's mayor, Walter Maser.

It will be located on Warrensville Center Rd. south of Libby Rd. and its eight classrooms will provide technical training for about 1,000 members of the reserve in this area.

SUED FOR AUTO MISHAP

CLEVELAND (AP)—Charles Gong aware of nearby Kirtland was sued for a total of $18,000 in four law suits filed yesterday as the result of an automobile accident March 27 on Ohio 306 in Geauga County.

Filing the suits were George Knoble of Novelty, his wife, Bernice, their daughter Diana, 8 and Eileen Carneke, 13, of Cleveland. They said they were injured when Gongaware's car crossed the center line and hit one being driven by Knoble.

Ford Still Seeking Site In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ford Motor Co. officials meet in Detroit today with Columbus representatives in a continued effort to salvage location of a multi-million dollar Ford plant here.

City council last Thursday rejected, 4-3, legislation to rezone a 403-acre tract on Columbus' north side as a site for the steering gear and small parts plant.

Since then, Councilman Dewey E. Garner, who voted against rezoning, has offered a compromise plan to bring Ford into the city.

Northside residents generally are opposed to the plan, saying it will lower property values in their area. The Beechwood-Clintonville Residents Assn., through its attorney, yesterday threatened to force a referendum or bring an injunction if city council reconsiders and rezones the site.

3 Pickets Fined, Jailed For Assault

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fines and jail sentences were levied in Municipal Court yesterday against three pickets at the strikebound Westinghouse plant here.

The charges of interfering with arrest of a fourth man, who escaped, and assault and battery grew out of an incident at the plant Dec. 3. Those charged were William Connors, 27, and Robert Miller, 20, of Hilliard, and Denver Triplett, 31, of Columbus. Miller was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to two days in jail on an assault and battery charge. Connors and Triplett were convicted on both charges and fined $35 and costs each and sentenced to jail for four days.

Army Antiaircraft Enlistees Sought

The Regular Army's newest addition to its ranks, the Army Antiaircraft Command, is now open for direct enlistment to men of this area with or without prior military service, according to Sgt. Emuel Bosley, NCO in charge of the Army recruiting station at the Post Office here.

The "backbone" of the new unit is guided missiles, such as Nike and other complex defensive weapons.

Since the outfit's main job is that of defending America's communities, according to the recruiting sergeant, the chances for a stable stateside assignment are excellent. College credits are offered for some of the technical training courses servicemen may take while members of the Army Antiaircraft Command. Additional benefits received for this type of enlistment include choice of several courses in electronics and guided missile repair and maintenance.

More information may be obtained from Sgt. Bosley at the recruiting station each Monday and Wednesday.

Union Pledges $1,100,000 For Israel Projects

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers Union has pledged $1,100,000 for projects in Israel, a gift which union President David Dubinsky believes to be the largest in labor history.

Dubinsky announced yesterday the union will give one million dollars in four yearly installments for a 200-bed hospital near Beer sheva in the Negev. Two other immediate payments of $50,000 each will go to complete a sports stadium at Haifa and to replace out-worn equipment at the International Trade School there.

Farm Income Down 5.4%

Lower Hog Prices Felt In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio farm income is running 5.4 per cent below last year chiefly because of lower hog prices.

In contrast, the latest Agriculture Department report shows farm cash receipts nationally have dropped an average of 3.3 per cent.

"There is a lot of pork sold in Ohio, and pork is pretty low in relation to last year," a department statistician told a reporter today.

"I think that's the principal reason why farm income in the state has fallen. Many of the other products in Ohio—such as milk, eggs, poultry and some fruits—have been holding their own."

"Apples and pears might be down but beans are at least as good as last year."

Department figures show that Ohio farmers took in a total of $852,782,000 for all of their products in the first 10 months of this year. Last year, for the same period, this total was $901,642,000.

Breaking these statistics down further, the department said Ohio income on livestock and dairy products fell from $590,985,000 in 1954 to $548,880,000 this year. Crops went from $310,657,000 to $303,902,000.

The biggest cash year for Ohio farmers in history was 1952, when they aggregated $1,109,000,000. Since then their total income has dropped to $1,100,000,000 in 1953, then to $1,091,000,000 in 1954.

This year, a department spokesman said, the Ohio farm income figure "still should be close to a billion dollars" but nevertheless a smaller figure than 1954.

Department statisticians also have computed how much money the average Ohio farm netted in 1954.

Their tables show that the typical Ohio farm realized a net income of $2,340 in 1954 compared with a national average of $2,316. For purposes of comparison, here are 1954 net income figures for some other states: Michigan, $1,683; Indiana, $2,911; Kentucky, $1,672; West Virginia, $941; Pennsylvania, $1,321; Illinois, $3,787; Arizona, $15,380; California, $5,974.
